North Star Academy

North Star Academy provides early behavioral intervention for children ages 2.5 to 12 years including autism spectrum disorder and other intellectual or developmental disabilities. North Star Academy also offers clinic-based intensive behavioral intervention services funded privately or through insurance plans.

North Star offers a unique approach using the evidence-based intervention principles of Applied Behavior Analysis.

Families have access to on-site speech-language therapy and occupational therapy, on-site behavioral training for parents, siblings and additional caregivers, coordination of care with physicians and other support professionals and opportunities to interact with typically developing peers within the shared campus of Johnson County Montessori School. JOHNSON COUNTY MONTESSORI SCHOOL

Johnson County Montessori School was established in 1965 to encourage young children's natural love for learning and developing problem-solving skills they will use in the classroom and everyday life.

Our Montessori-trained and certified teachers provide individualized lessons using proven teaching methods. We offer an integration program for children with special needs.
